International and Comparative Librarianship Peter Johan Lor

Not all international librarianship is comparative, and not all comparative librarianship is international although I do think that comparative librarianship is concerned with comparisons at what Ragin (1987:5) calls the macrosocial level, which is that of societies, cultures and nations.

International Librarianship a reconnaissance J

The comparative method is seen as an essential tool of international librarianship. Significant developments taking place in international organizations and programmes, including Unesco, UNISIST, IFLA and UBC, are considered, and an attempt is made to indicate some implications for the future of inter national librarianship of possible changes in world society.
